

Reducing the burden of pressure ulcers

Mölnlycke® sponsored satellite symposium at the European Pressure Ulcer Advisory Panel Annual Meeting 2019
Thursday September 19, 10:45 – 12:15 CET, Breakout room 1/Pasteur Lounge, Lyon Convention Centre, France

Consolidating technology, research and evidence-based practice to enhance clinical and economic outcomes in pressure ulcer management

Key thought leaders will discuss the current status behind the use of innovative dressings for the prevention and treatment of pressure ulcers, the evidence that demonstrates their effectiveness in protecting patients and saving costs, and also what they may offer in the future. The experts will share new insights and evidence from both a clinical and a pre-clinical perspective.

Learn from leading international experts

The symposium will hear from leading experts from around the world about their experience in pressure ulcer related research and clinical practice, including:
